The Virginia Black Lifestyle Internship Program

About Us:

Virginia Black Lifestyle Magazine (VBLM) is a digital medium created particularly for Black citizens of the Commonwealth of Virginia, featuring lifestyle content that celebrates our culture and views on current events, education, parenting, wanderlust, agape love, politics, business and more. VBLM answers the call for the need to have a platform to: serve the Black Community, magnify our achievements, and amplify our magic.

About the Opportunity:

We are proud to offer internships to college students who attend one of the following Virginia Historically Black Colleges and University's (HBCU's):

- ✓ Hampton University
- ✓ Norfolk State University
- ✓ Virginia Union University
- ✓ Virginia State University
- ✓ Virginia University of Lynchburg

Requirements:

We are seeking reliable and creative interns to earn experience as: writers, editors, and photographers to contribute to our narrative by crafting content that matter to our community.

Qualifications:

- ✓ Current HBCU student
- ✓ Minimum 2.5 GPA
- ✓ Strong interest in journalism, communications, and the intersection of VBLM.
- ✓ Excellent writing skills, with a unique sense of "voice."
- ✓ Internet Access

The Virginia Black Lifestyle Magazine Internship is open to all majors, and is an online opportunity.
